WOXA LTD. PRIVACY POLICY

As part of our daily business operations, WOXA LTD. needs to collect personal data from our clients and prospective clients in order to provide them with our products and services and ensure that we can meet their needs when providing these products and services as well as when providing them with the respective data.

Protecting client's privacy and personal and financial data is one of our top priorities for WOXA LTD. This Privacy Policy sets out how WOXA LTD. (the "Company" or "Woxa") collects, uses and manages client personal data we receive by client or a third party in connection with our provision of services to client or which we collect from client's use of our services and/or our website (<https://www.woxa.mu>) and/or any other related websites and applications including, among others, the Company's Members Area. The Privacy Policy also informs clients of their rights with respect to the processing of their personal data.

This Privacy Policy applies to the processing activities performed by WOXA LTD. to the personal data of its clients/potential clients, the website, use of cookies, contract and communication and email newsletter.

1. What is this Privacy Policy for?

This privacy policy is for this website and governs the privacy of its users who choose to use it. The policy sets out the different areas where user privacy is concerned and outlines the obligations & requirements of the users, the website and website owners. Furthermore, the way this website processes, stores and protects user data and information will also be detailed within this policy.

2. Collecting personal data

By registering a Personal Area, client agree to have their personal data processed and specifically consent to the collection, systemization, aggregation, storage, revision (updating, changing), usage, anonymization, blocking, deletion, and distribution (transfer) of said personal data to third parties in accordance with the conditions set forth in this Privacy Agreement. The Company shall ask the client for the data necessary for registering a Personal Area, providing functional service, and using this data if a dispute arises between client and WOXA LTD. Providing this data is required for client identification and thus allows clients to perform various operations in their Personal Area and trading accounts. The Company may also collect data to improve our understanding of their needs and preferences by communicating through Live Chat, conducting brief surveys in their Personal Area on our official website, and communicating with clients over the phone. Clients provide this data to us voluntarily. The Company uses the data that clients directly provide when communicating.

If you provide personal data of third parties, such as family members, emergency contacts, or reference persons, please inform such persons of the information described in this Privacy Policy. Also, in some cases, you may need to obtain consent from the individuals in order for us to process their personal data.

In the event that the Company requires to process the client's personal data for purposes beyond those initially specified, the Company shall inform the client accordingly. If such additional processing cannot be justified by any other legal bases, the Company shall seek the client's explicit consent before proceeding with the processing of personal data for the new purpose. The client will have the option to provide or withhold consent based on their preferences.

3. Use of personal data

The Company uses client's personal data to provide secure high-quality service. The personal data clients provide us with is used to verify contact information and identity. The Company also uses personal data to register Personal Areas, open and configure trading accounts, and issue activation codes and passwords. By providing contact information, clients help us improve our services and promptly communicate the availability of additional services, features, and promotions we may be offering.

4. Providing personal data to third parties

In some circumstances, the Company may be required to disclose and/or transfer client's personal data to third - party organizations. The Company shall process and transfer the client's personal data to third parties strictly in accordance with the purpose and scope for which it was collected, and shall adhere to the principle of data minimization. Personal data will only be shared with third parties when necessary to fulfill the intended purpose. The Company ensures that only the minimum amount of personal data required for the specific purpose is disclosed to third parties.

In order for third-party organizations to process personal data as part of their responsibilities under contract with the Company or legal obligations, the Company may be required to disclose or transfer client's personal data to third-party organizations. The Company shall reserve the right to provide personal data to third parties if required by law or if we receive formal requests from law enforcement and other government agencies. The Company may also provide clients' personal data to tax authorities or organizations that require the data to be provided in order to comply with laws against money laundering and financing terrorism, or when necessary to protect our rights or property. The Company may pass client's personal data on to third party authentication service providers when clients use our system to perform identity checks and documents verification – Woxa do this in order to comply with our legal obligations. For the cases where personal data are being disclosed or transferred to third-party organizations, the Company shall ensure that the minimum amount of personal data are being disclosed or transferred, the Company shall maintain the confidentiality and security of the data being transferred. Besides, the Company may consider anonymization and pseudonymization techniques for greater security. The third-party organizations who will process client's personal data for the Company will be required to have in place an appropriate privacy policy. The Company does not permit these third-party organizations to use client's personal data in a way that diverge from the agreed scope and purposes.

In order to give clients comprehensive, state-of-the-art high-quality service, the Company may exchange client's personal data with our partners. However, the use of client's personal data is limited to sharing the client's account number with one of our partners at their request. At client's request, Woxa can provide information about the services that our partners provide for us.

The Company shares personal data with third parties for the purpose of improving its services, business development, and marketing initiatives. This includes but is not limited to collaborating with service providers, partners, and marketing agencies to enhance the overall client experience, provide personalized services, and develop targeted marketing campaigns. Personal data shared with third parties will be used solely for the purpose of achieving these objectives and will be handled in accordance with applicable data protection laws and regulations.
